Mixografia® is pleased to announce an exhibition of wall sculptures by John Baldessari: Table Lamp and Its Shadow: Revisiting Workshop Multiples with an opening reception Saturday, September 18th from 4:00 pm to 6:00 pm. The exhibition will run through Saturday, December 22nd.

More object than print, Baldessari's pieces stand apart from the conventional forms of printmaking. Created by laminating together specially produced handmade paper, the pieces have an unusual thickness and are cut in irregular shapes. Each work is based upon photographs taken of six different household table lamps and printed using a photo-lithography process. Each work was then hand painted by the artist in his studio. There are six different lamps and a total of 36 prints in the series.

This group of work constitutes Baldessari's ongoing interest in achieving a purity between photographic imagery and abstract (pure) painting. They also exemplify an early conceptual interest of working within a priority structure that allows for permutations that are a result of that structure.
